Legal Awards 2018

Entries now open
Celebrating excellence in the legal profession

The LexisNexis Legal Awards (formerly known as the Halsbury Legal Awards) were launched in 2013 to recognise and celebrate excellence and innovation across the legal sector. Since then the competition has been strong, with the awards attracting an increasing number of high calibre entrants each year. The 2018 event has been renamed to mark the 200th anniversary of the establishment of the LexisNexis legal information business in the UK and, as it will form part of the bicentenary celebrations, it is set to be the biggest and best yet!

These prestigious awards, presided over by a judging panel of leading figures in the legal world, celebrate the values the legal community embodies, which are prized by the profession and wider community. We are delighted to announce that the 2018 awards ceremony will take place at an iconic new home – the Sheraton Grand London Park Lane. This 5 star hotel overlooks Green Park and its Grade II listed ballroom is one of London's finest examples of Art Deco architecture.

We are now calling for entries for the 2018 event and inviting sponsors to join us in a celebration of the best of best.

The 2018 categories are:

- Pro Bono Award
- Award for Diversity and Inclusion

With distinguished names and organisations in attendance, and a wide range of prestigious short-listed entrants and guests, this is an outstanding event to be associated with.

Join us, and be part of these landmark legal celebrations on Thursday 15th March 2018!
